JennScents Aromaversity® Student Guide

Providing Excellence in Holistic Clinical Aromatherapy

Welcome to the JennScents Aromaversity! We are excited you are here.

Thousands have been right where you are...excited and eager to learn how to use essential oils effectively for self-care and/or create a lucrative business. They have been passionate about helping themselves and others improve physical, mental, and emotional health.

What's even more exciting...

The future of medicine is happening right now. Aromatherapy is a hot commodity in integrative health. More doctors, nurses, hospitals, and mental health practitioners are implementing aromatherapy practices into their patient care. Not to mention, more patients are requesting it.

The problem...

Not everyone has the right education in blending and using essential oils for specific health situations. Being able to match up the right oils to each person's needs, while cross-referencing contraindications and safety guidelines.

That is where you come in.

JennScents is honored and proud to have watch our graduates every year for the last 20-years, excel and flourish in taking better care of themselves and developing successful businesses. Some have gone onto –

- creating their own product lines
- become a master formulator
- educator, author, blogger
- scent event specialist
- and more

We have helped graduates implement aromatherapy programs in hospitals, hospice, day cares, medical practices, dentist offices, and spas.

What will you do with your certification? Do you have a set vision?

If not, no worries. Throughout your studies at the JennScents Aromaversity, you will gain experience in various facets of health to help you find your niche. Sometimes you find a niche, but other times, the niche finds you. It could be women's care, men's health, children, pets, cleaning green, emotional healing, mental health, skin care, or general practice.

Making the decision to register with JennScents Aromaversity®

Making the decision to pursue a new career or learn a new trade can be intimidating. But it can also be exhilarating. At JennScents we help you put those hesitations to rest by being present with you each step of the way, and helping you unfold your aromatic talents.

Some common questions other students have had:

Will I have enough time to dedicate to my studies?

The JennScents Aromaversity® has a 24/7 online platform that allows you to create your own "classroom time" that fits into your schedule. We set a course completion timeframe of 4 months, per course. However, extensions are available if needed. We can also help you fast track your studies if that is your goal.

Can I earn enough money to pay for my investment in my aromatherapy education?

From personal experience, I can honestly say...YES! Education is always a worthwhile investment. Whether you are learning for self-care, or doing aromatherapy as a part-time or full-time business, you can earn revenue. Your return provides continuous benefit to you year after year. When it comes to being able to care for yourself & your family, every investment is worth it.

When it comes to business, Jennifer can help develop strategies during your studies to create revenue streams. To help, we have a payment plan giving you time to create and develop your business.

Will I get a comprehensive education that trains me in more than just the basics?

Our programs at the JennScents Aromaversity® are comprised of courses that take you on a journey of learning & implementing aromatherapy solutions. We have in-depth, comprehensive & diverse training that educates you in several areas of health for every age, at every stage. You will not only learn information, but you will also get to practice it with through the course assignments. It puts your skills into action.

Will I learn how to use my knowledge to create my own essential oil blends and products?

Yes! Our course assignments give you an opportunity to practice developing your aromatherapy skills, while having a hands-on mentor by your side.

Knowledge + Skill = Success!

Do I need experience using essential oils?

No, there is no experience required. We can help you whether you are new or have experience in aromatherapy practices.

What supplies will I need to complete my aromatherapy program at the JennScents Aromaversity®?

You can use your own essential oils, as long as they are 100% pure from a reputable & sustainably friendly company. We also have aromatherapy supply packages available from our JennScents Online Store. We also have partnership with several supply companies to offer discounts to our students. Once you become a student, those discount codes can be found in the Student Resource Library.

Supplies include:

- Essential oils
- Carrier oils
- Bottles
